
Thoughts About Dreams

If you don't daydream and kind of plan things out in your imagination, you never get there. So you have to start someplace. —Robert Duvall

If you want to enjoy success, fantasize about it. If you want a special love, fantasize about that, too. When it comes along, you will be more comfortable. It won't be a new experience. —Dr. Hirschfeld

Talk about a dream; try to make it real. —Bruce Springsteen

No one should negotiate their dreams. Dreams must be free to flee and fly high. No government, no legislature, has a right to limit your dreams. You should never agree to surrender your dreams. —Reverend Jesse Jackson

What lies behind us and what lies before us are small matters compared to what lies within us. —Ralph Waldo Emerson

Hold fast to your dreams, for if dreams die, then life is like a broken winged bird that cannot fly. —Langston Hughes

Some men see things as they are and say "Why?" I dream things that never were and say "Why not?" —George Bernard Shaw

It may be those who do most, dream most. —Stephen Leacock

Vision is the art of seeing the invisible. —Jonathan Swift

Those that dream at night in the dusty recesses of their minds awake the next day to find that their dreams were just vanity. But those who dream during the day with their eyes wide open are dangerous men — they act out their dreams to make them reality. —T. Lawrence

All men of action are dreamers. —James G. Huneker

If you have built castles in the air, your work need not be lost; that is where they should be. Now put the foundations under them. —Henry David Thoreau

It is difficult to say what is impossible, for the dream of yesterday is the hope of today and the reality of tomorrow. —Robert H. Goddard.

The first principle of success is desire — knowing what you want. Desire is the planting of your seed. —Robert Collier
